RE: HAMPE, Blake David
Docket No.: 0979 03:11CR195-01-HZ

Dear Mr. Pagon,

I received your e-mail including the affidavit by Blake David Hampe and a motion to terminate supervised release. The U.S. Probation Office will recommend to the Court that the request be denied. Although Hampe is moving to a sex offender aftercare treatment group at Casey Weber's office, he has not completed treatment. The probation office believes that Hampe should be continued on supervision for a period of time following full completion of treatment in order to monitor behavior and compliance with conditions, and that supervision should also continue during his transition from the support of the treatment provider to self-reliance.

I have continued to work with Hampe while being mindful of his conditions of supervision; he is able to attend college with the assistance of computer monitoring equipment. As a note, I never spoke with any of Hampe's college instructors; however, I did confirm with the college that their computers were monitored to the extent that students could not use them for illegal purposes. As I explained to Hampe previously, when his current monitoring software expires, I will be installing new software that will allow me to monitor his changing and expanding use of the computer for school purposes.

Also regarding the subject of early termination of supervised release, I contacted F. Todd Lowell, Assistant U. S Attorney, District of Maine. He concurred that completion of sex offender treatment should occur before consideration of the termination of Hampe's supervised release.

Sincerely,

Jewelley Hirsch
Sr. U.S. Probation Officer
